Portland Opportunities Industrialization Center

Rosemary Anderson High School

Locations

Portland Opportunities Industrialization Center + Rosemary Anderson High School

is committed to the success of youth at hope through the age of 25, providing the highest quality services in education, mentoring, family outreach, employment training and placement.

Established in 1968 in North Portland, POIC + RAHS currently serves more than 2000 students, work trainees, and families annually (80% are Black or Latinx.)

Our major programs include Rosemary Anderson Schools, Work Opportunities Training, Community Healing Initiative, Youth Services, and Community Safety.

At POIC + RAHS, we reconnect alienated at-risk youth affected by poverty, family instability, and homelessness to education, career training, and culturally specific wraparound programs, including services for families impacted by the criminal justice system.

COVID-19 Success Story

LaTasha Taylor, second from right, talks to friends in the driveway of her new home Friday, June 19, 2020, in Portland, Ore. Friends held a drive-up Juneteenth celebration and housewarming for Taylor and her family. - Bradley W. Parks / OPB LaTasha, a single mom of 5, dreamed of owning a home and raising a successful family. She was putting in the hard work to achieve the dream – taking on two jobs, at OHSU and Safeway. She received grants to help pay for a down payment and even found a home in North Portland she liked. Then COVID hit, and LaTasha got sick. She was one of the first confirmed cases of COVID in Oregon.

Never hospitalized because of the virus, LaTasha recovered, thankfully. In May, she was able to complete the home purchase.

Since joining CHI in September 2019, LaTasha has been actively involved in CHI parent groups with her three daughters, and her whole family has participated in family activities with the program. Whether in small groups or a Zoom call with hundreds of Multnomah County residents, she's never shied away from sharing her story, knowing it could impact others.
